Upcoming: Nominations for 2019 Board of Directors

Early next week, the Iowa Cancer Consortium will officially open the call for nominations for the 2019 board of directors. Open seats include treasurer, secretary, and four at-large positions.

Board terms are two years in length and begin January 1, 2019. Watch for more information on Monday!

Thank You!

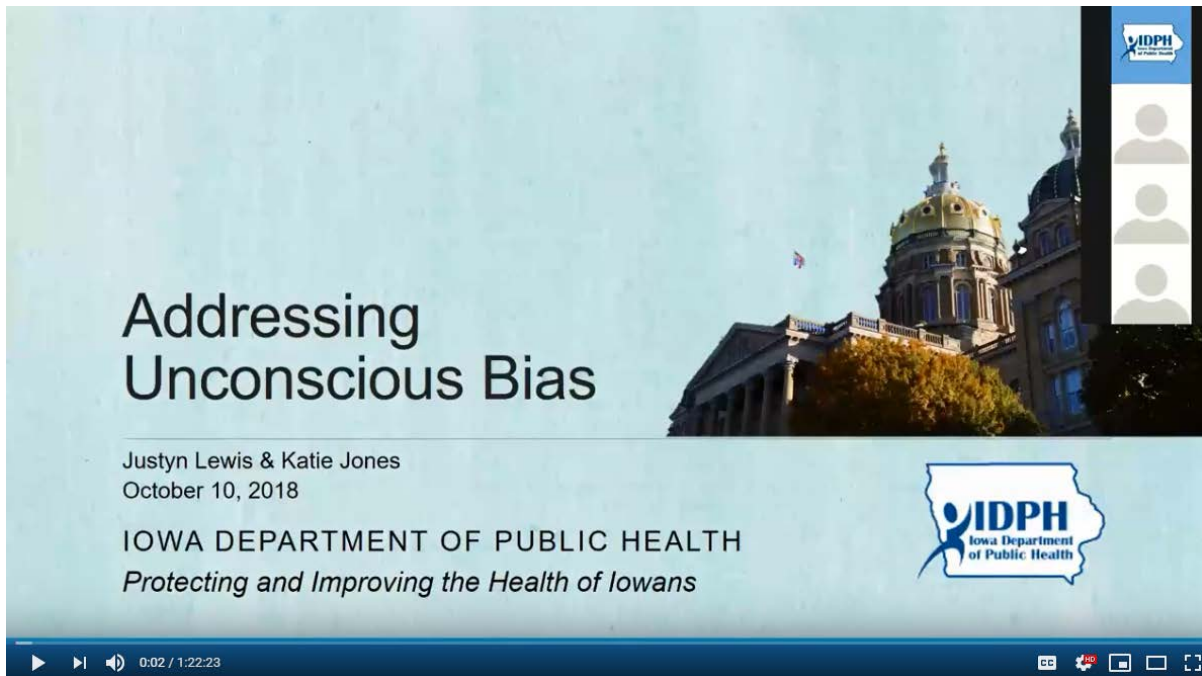

Dr. Jason Daniel-Ulloa has resigned from his position on the Iowa Cancer Consortium board of directors as he and his partner, Dr. Barbara Baquero, are moving to Seattle, Washington at the end of the year. Dr. Daniel-Ulloa was first elected to the board in 2017 and has been an active member of the Consortium, including serving as the co-chair of the health equity committee and then work group. Thank you Jason for your service and for challenging us to think more deeply about health disparities and outcomes in cancer control. Best wishes on your new adventure!

Additionally, Norm Van Klompenburg, our organization's first treasurer, is stepping down from the board at the end of December. During his tenure, Norm worked alongside Consortium leaders to develop important organizational policies, financial controls, and infrastructure – all of which have helped the Consortium grow into what it is today! We are looking forward to hearing about his winter adventures in Texas and pictures of the stars. Thank you Norm for keeping us on track all these years!
